

Bruno de Veth

Bruno is the founder of the bruno de veth architecture office. After several years working in the United States and Asia, Bruno managed the Belgian office of JDS Architects, founded by Julien De Smedt. This rich experience helped forge his convictions and expand his competences. Bruno won several awards during his studies and also gave several international conferences in his capacity as a manager at JDS Architects. Shaped by his many experiences, Bruno decided to found the bruno de veth architecture practice.

hello!

this is bruno de veth architecture

bruno de veth architecture is a practice with an international vision, focusing on architecture and urbanism.

our work is the result of rigorous and professional approaches that combine the analysis and study of new ways of living, new patterns of work and consumption and new forms of entertainment and mobility.

we aim to provide adequate, contemporary responses to this new urban paradigm.

each of our projects is taken on as a collaboration based on special and specific partnerships, in close cooperation with client.
